A state-of-the-art Transport Interchange for Cardiff

CARDIFF is set to get a new state-of-the-art transport interchange as world-renowned architectural practice Foster + Partners have been chosen as the preferred firm to design the scheme.

Central Square is an area in need of regeneration and the proposed design will form an integral part of the Foster + Partners designed masterplan for the spectacular new gateway into Cardiff. The new transport interchange will link travellers to bus, train, bicycle and taxi networks.

Foster + Partners is responsible for some of the world's most recognisable architecture including the 'Gherkin' in London, the Reichstag parliament in Berlin and Hong Kong international airport. The firm is also responsible for the design of the new headquarters building for BBC Wales which is also due to be built in Central Square.

Central Square developer, Rightacres Property Ltd, has worked closely with the Council to initiate a design competition for a new bus and cycle interchange on the Marland House/NCP car park site. The brief was to design a high quality mixed use building with the new bus interchange at its heart, retail at ground floor level, and up to 200,000 sq. ft. of offices, a 200 bed hotel and residential opportunities on levels above.

Under the current timeline and subject to necessary planning permission, the new Transport Interchange will be built by December 2017.

The new Cardiff Transport Interchange

CARDIFF'S current bus station will close on August 1, to allow for the re-development of Central Square.

From August 2, all bus services which collected passengers from the bus station will be re-located to on-street bus stops. The map (see page 4) shows the services affected and the new bus stops that these services will be departing from. If your bus service isn't listed on the map, your departure point is unaffected by these changes.

The bus stops which are being used on-street, while the bus station is closed, have been clearly labelled with stickers, so that visitors, residents and commuters can identify their new bus stop. Staff will be working on-street to give out leaflets and help people with the new arrangements. Bus routes and times remain largely unaffected – all details from all the travel operators can be viewed via www.traveline.cymru.

The map showing the changes to bus departure services is also available in a leaflet which can be collected from all council outlets including council buildings, libraries, hubs, leisure centres and other outlets.

Information roadshows showing the model of the re-development of Central Square, the spectacular artist impressions, as well as the new bus departure arrangements, have been touring the city to give information to the public. The public has been giving its feedback on what they would like to have at the new facility. Suggestions include a new Tourist Information Centre, space to safely store luggage or creative space.

Councillor Phil Bale, Leader of the City of Cardiff Council, said: "We said we would deliver a bus station in Central Square that everyone in the city could be proud of and that's exactly what we are doing.

"The design which Foster + Partners has created is simply breath-taking. It will act as a spectacular gateway to Cardiff, one of which any European capital city would be rightly proud.

"The bus station will be designed around a fully enclosed public concourse featuring a large waiting area with airport style lounge facilities. The design incorporates protected walkways that will give access to Cardiff Central train station, a cycle hub and retail facilities and food outlets. People will be able to wait for a bus in comfort and in a safe environment in what will become one of the city's most impressive public squares.

"We need the public to engage with us as the detailed design of the bus interchange continues to be developed. This is why we are providing public engagement events and any public feedback is being sent through to the Project Team so views can be considered as the detailed design work continues."

Councillor Ramesh Patel, Cabinet Member for Transport, Planning and Sustainability, said: "While the bus station is closed for re-development, from August 1, services which previously departed from the station will be relocated to on-street stands in close proximity to the station. The temporary arrangements, as well as the proposed design of the new facility will be the focus of a public engagement exercise during July.

"The technical specification of the new bus interchange will ensure that travel by bus becomes more efficient and attractive to residents, commuters and visitors. We want to see more people using public transport in Cardiff, our aim is to get 50 per cent of people in the city using public transport and this new station will play a major part in making that happen.

"The new bus station will be modern and fit for purpose, and will cater for the projected increase in passengers .It will have dynamic stand allocation, with real-time information displays for the public to view. The bus interchange will no longer be a parking area for buses, as it is now, it will be run efficiently and the development will be befitting of a growing European capital city.

"We want to make public transport more attractive and these plans cater for the future growth of the city. The plans allow for the development of the METRO Concept. It is forward thinking, to deliver a facility which is fit for purpose for a city which is growing faster than any another in the United Kingdom, outside London."

The advantage of the new bus interchange is that it will remain open on event days with access from buses from the south.

• From Saturday July 25 to July 31, public engagement roadshows will be held in Central Square. Officers will also be in the city centre until August 15 giving out information leaflets to bus users.

• Public concourse and real-time information displays inside the new bus station

• The bike hub - undercover & secure facilities for bikes in the station

Leader's message - Showcasing Cardiff to the world

There's always lots going on in Cardiff over the summer with a packed Cardiff Festival schedule promising something for everyone.

Already this summer, the city has hosted some of the biggest names in music – the Manic Street Preachers and One Direction – as well as major sporting occasions like the British speedway Grand Prix and the return of the First Ashes Test. There's much more to come, check out p11 for the latest details.

Time and time again, the city has risen to the challenge of hosting major events and the news that Cardiff will host the 2017 UEFA Champions League Final is a real coup for the city. What is widely regarded as the biggest club football game in the world will grace the Millennium Stadium turf and the match presents another fantastic opportunity to showcase Cardiff to the world!

A lot of behind the scenes hard work went into securing the final for Cardiff and it's great to see those efforts have paid off.

Over recent weeks, I have been involved in events marking the 60th Anniversary of the twinning of Cardiff and Stuttgart. I was recently welcomed in Stuttgart where I unveiled a new tram called Cardiff which I christened with Welsh water and even started the Stuttgart marathon.

More recently, we welcomed a delegation from the German city to experience first-hand what Cardiff has to offer.

There is so much activity that goes on between the two cities, driven by the people, clubs and organisations of Cardiff and Stuttgart. We are particularly proud in Cardiff of our Cardiff Stuttgart Association, a group dedicated to maintaining and promoting city links.

Look out for more activities to mark the 60th Anniversary including 'The Tale of Two Cities' exhibition, part of the Diffusion festival in Cardiff this October.

I am continuing to work with fellow Council leaders and other stakeholders across the Cardiff Capital Region, as well as with the Welsh Government, to develop a business case for a City Deal to take to Central Government by the end of the year.

City Deals are all about investing to support the economy and create jobs, not just in Cardiff but across the region. Glasgow recently secured a City Deal worth over £1bn to invest in improved transport and skills and a similar investment here would ensure Cardiff can compete in attracting many new jobs to the city and the wider region.

However, whilst the prospect of a City Deal is exciting and is one of the ways we have been pro-actively trying to find new routes of funding, this will not help us resolve the pressing budget shortfalls that we face and the recently-announced Westminster budget will undoubtedly have serious consequences for public services.

Whilst as a Council we will always strive to be smarter in providing services with much less money available, many services people expect from their councils may no longer be viable and we will now have some tough decisions to make.

We continue to do our very best for Cardiff.

Feedback form for bus interchange

The images currently available on the new bus interchange show the design at concept stage. Following the public engagement process, the feedback from the public will be given to the Project Team and will be considered as the detailed design continues. Would you like your feedback to be considered?

Yes ☐ No ☐ Don't know ☐

There are plans to deliver a bus interchange which is under cover, with toilet facilities, real time information displays, a bike and storage hub, places to get something to eat or drink, retail opportunities and a public concourse. In addition to this specification, what other facilities would you like to see at the new bus interchange?

The current bus station will close on August 1st. This will mean that bus services that previously left from the bus station have been moved on-street. Did you get your bus from the bus station? If so, do you now know where you will get your bus from August 1st onwards?

Yes ☐ No ☐

Do you think the images of the new bus interchange, shown in the article, are an improvement on the current bus station?

Yes ☐ No ☐ Don't know ☐

All of the information given in the article is available on line via Cardiff Council's website. Do you have access to the internet?

Yes ☐ No ☐ Don't know ☐

Currently the number of passengers inter-connecting between train and bus in Cardiff is approximately 10%. Would you prefer to see a system introduced where one ticket allows you to travel on both bus and train services – similar to the system in London?

Yes ☐ No ☐ Don't know ☐

Would you like your email address to be added to a stakeholder database to receive updates on the project, as the development continues?

Yes ☐ No ☐

If yes, please supply your name, email address and (or) postal address if you do not have access to the internet.

Please send the feedback form back to the Council. Either scan the form, once you have filled it in, and send it by email to capitaltimes@cardiff.gov.uk or alternatively send by post to:

THE Lord Mayor of Cardiff, Councillor David Walker has spoken of how he is looking forward to raising money for Velindre Cancer Centre during his year in office.

Councillor Walker has chosen the centre in Whitchurch as his nominated charity and has pledged to help raise its profile, as well as valuable funds by hosting special fundraising events and attending key fixtures in the centre's annual calendar.

Councillor Walker said: "Velindre is one of the largest cancer centres in the UK and is the premier provider of radiotherapy and other specialist anti-cancer treatments in Wales.

"The centre has been providing treatment and care to cancer patients for nearly 60 years. I'm delighted to have chosen Velindre as this year's Lord Mayor's charity and that we will be raising funds for this outstanding facility."

Each year, over 5,000 new referrals and around 50,000 new outpatient appointments are seen at Velindre. Patients come under the care of clinical and medical oncologists who specialise in the non-surgical treatment of cancer.

Access to radiotherapy is critical to improving patient outcomes for cancer and evidence shows that approximately 40 per cent of patients with cancer would benefit from radiotherapy treatment. Recent advances at Velindre means that it can be delivered with remarkable precision.

Councillor Walker continued: "I am very much looking forward to working with this charity as every pound we are able to raise will help to ensure the best possible support is offered to every patient, their families and carers in dealing with cancer.

"Our fundraising efforts will contribute to Velindre's ground-breaking research and the acquisition of cutting edge technology ensuring that staff have access to the most up to date treatments available.

Andrew Morris, Head of Fundraising at Velindre, said: "We are really looking forward to the next 12 months and planning a series of high profile fundraising activities which will help raise the profile and much needed funds, so that we can continue to provide high quality care to patients and their families dealing with cancer in Wales."

Shape the future of public services

CARDIFF Residents can have their say on a wide range of issues and the future of service delivery in the city in the annual Ask Cardiff survey.

Facing an expected £47.4m budget shortfall in 2016/17, which is anticipated to rise to £117m by the end of the 2018/19 financial year, radical new ways of delivering services must be developed by the Council and we want to know the views and opinions of residents to help shape these services.

The survey in full takes approximately 35 minutes to complete but is broken down into several sections with the ability to skip certain question sets.

Available online at www.cardiff.gov.uk/askcardiff2015, you can also save the document at any time and return later to complete it. Hard copies of the survey are also available at community hubs, libraries and leisure centres throughout the city.

Cabinet Member for Safety, Engagement and Democracy, Councillor Daniel De'Ath, said: "The annual Ask Cardiff survey is a chance for people who live in Cardiff to tell us what they think about the issues that matter to them in the city, as well as giving us their opinion about the future of public services.

"Cardiff is the fastest growing city in the UK and consequently demand for the services we provide is growing while funding is reducing. This makes it harder and harder for us to deliver great public services.

Responses to the survey will be used to inform the Council and its public service partners about future service provision. All surveys must be completed and submitted by Monday, September 7.

TIME TO VOLUNTEER

HELP TO MAKE IT A GOLDEN HAPPY HOUR

A charity that brings together older people through fun daytime singing and activity sessions across Wales wants to find people who can spare some time each month to go along as GOLDEN VOLUNTEERS and support its work.

Goldies Cymru runs its activity and sing and smile sessions during the day with many more planned in the months ahead. The popular singalong hits of the 50s onwards are at the heart of the sessions. Rachel Parry is the programme leader for Goldies Cymru and she is keen to point out that Goldies (as the charity has become fondly known) is NOT a choir but fun singsongs and laughter are the Goldies trademark as can be seen by our pictures.

"We welcome everyone to come along but would love to have more active GOLDEN VOLUNTEERS to help out at the sessions. Some of our attendees need a friendly helper to find the right page in our singing books, to help with the tea and squash, to assist in setting out the rooms and support our session leaders so we give those who attend a GOLDEN HAPPY HOUR the happiest hour in their month. "

Goldies Cymru is having a major effect on the lives of hundreds of older people and with the help of GOLDEN VOLUNTEERS it can reach out to many more. The sessions are listed below and those attending are older people from the local community, many may have dementia or Alzheimer's. The work of our charity has grown in the last four years in Wales in partnership with many other age support organisations, churches, Local Authorities and the Coal Industry Social Welfare Organisation.

Goldies Cymru also has a successful schools intergenerational programme called Time after Time which is featured on www.goldiescymru.org.uk. This website and the GOLDEN VOLUNTEER programme are both supported by a National Lottery Awards for All Wales grants.

"If you can spare some time, we would love to hear from you. You will have a great time yourself and you will be helping others. Volunteering for Goldies will make a big difference to people who have very lonely lives," adds Rachel. Please call in at a session and say hello to the session leader or call Rachel Parry on 07796 714816.

Revamping Lamby Way to increase recycling

CARDIFF is set to get a larger revamped household waste recycling centre in the east of the city aimed at improving recycling levels.

Lamby Way in Rumney and Bessemer Close in Grangetown are the preferred locations for the council's Household Waste Recycling Centres (HWRCs).

In response to the Welsh Government's collection and infrastructure blueprints which require HWRCs to run at 80 per cent capacity, it was decided in the 2014/15 Budget Report that the number of sites in Cardiff should be reduced from four to two by Spring 2016 to focus resources on two sites for high recycling.

Bessemer Close already serves the west of the city and the location of a second larger HWRC for Cardiff was based on either the option of Wedal Road in Cathays or Lamby Way sites, with Lamby Way HWRC emerging at the preferred location for a revamped and expanded site.

Cabinet Member for Environment, Councillor Bob Derbyshire said: "We looked at the pros and cons of both sites in fine detail and took a number of factors into consideration before arriving at our recommendations.

"One of those factors focussed on traffic volume and noise levels. At Wedal Road residents raised concerns about the increased volume of traffic caused by more site users to the facility. Operational noise was also raised by residents and I know from previous meetings that this is an issue which residents have raised before on a number of occasions. By choosing Lamby Way and Bessemer Close both of our HWRCs will be located in non-residential areas."

The target for the HWRCs is to deliver an additional 5,000 tonnes of reusable material by 2017. The new site will have over 20 large recycling and waste skips plus the capacity for additional containers for new materials so providing a wider range of recycling facilities.

Both sites will operate 12 hours per day, seven days per week during the summer and eight hours per day, seven days per week during the winter months.

Councillor Derbyshire added: "One significant issue raised during the consultation was that a number of non-Cardiff residents are using our HWRCs free of charge. This is something that we'll be cracking down on in the future.

"In order to establish residency, users will be requested to provide proof of residency such as a utility bill, library card or an active leisure card. Both sites will also be fitted with an Automatic Vehicle Number Plate Recognition (ANPR) system which will periodically be used to confirm addresses for members of the public and commercially-registered vehicles."

On completion of the new site in Spring 2016 the smaller existing HWRC site at Wedal Road will close and be marketed for sale in line with the Council's Corporate Asset Management Plan.

WASTE COLLECTION CHANGES FROM JULY 27

12 things you need to know about waste collection changes

Changes to recycling and waste collections in the city started this week, affecting the majority of households in the city.

QUESTION 1: WHAT IS THE POINT OF THESE CHANGES?
Basically, the aim of these changes is to increase recycling rates and decrease the amount of general waste we put out. This will reduce costs and make the city more sustainable. Stay out of the black…move into the green.

QUESTION 2: WHY ARE THE CHANGES NECESSARY?
The Council's recycling rate is currently projected to hit 53 percent, but the Welsh Government has set a recycling target of 70 percent by 2025 for councils to achieve. For each 1 per cent missed the Council can be fined £400,000. For the current period (2015/16) the council's recycling target is 58 per cent and therefore an increase of at least 5 percent is needed to meet this requirement. The 2019/20 target is 64 per cent. Progress must continue.

QUESTION 3: I CURRENTLY PUT MY RUBBISH OUT IN A BLACK WHEELIE BIN. WHAT DO THE NEW CHANGES MEAN FOR ME?
The regular 240L black bins will be exchanged for smaller (140L) versions. These bins will continue to be collected every fortnight. Currently, around 90,000 households use these black bins. An extra 10,000 households who don't have bins now, will receive the new smaller (140L) black bin. Registered larger families will continue to have additional support.

QUESTION 4: I'M IN A BAG AREA; CAN I STILL PUT OUT WASTE IN BLACK BAGS?
No. If you are in a bag area, only the new council provided red and white striped bags can be used. These new striped bags for non-recyclable general waste cannot be bought in shops. Putting out black bags could lead to a fine. By now you will have received a leaflet about the changes.

QUESTION 5: WILL MY RECYCLING AND FOOD STILL BE COLLECTED EVERY WEEK?
Yes – green recycling bags and food caddies will continue to be collected as normal every week. If you need a food caddy, one can be ordered online or by contacting C2C on 2087 2087 who will arrange for it to be delivered for free.

QUESTION 6: WHAT ABOUT GARDEN WASTE AND THOSE WHO ALREADY HAVE A GREEN WHEELIE BIN FOR THEIR GARDEN WASTE?
The collection frequency of garden waste won't be changing from fortnightly in the summer and monthly in the winter. Some areas will be provided with new wheeled bins. Other existing areas will be issued with reusable sacks and collected as normal. Don't forget that you need to register for your reusable garden sack service. This can be done by contacting C2C on 2087 2087. If you currently use a green wheeled bin, then continue to use it for your garden waste as normal.

QUESTION 7: I HEAR THERE ARE SOME NEW CHARGES BEING INTRODUCED?
All your recycling bags; food liners and food caddies are still free. After the initial reusable garden sack delivery, there is a £2 per sack replacement charge. There will be a £25 charge for lost or stolen wheeled bins, but damage will be repaired or the bin replaced for free.

QUESTION 8: WHY DO I HAVE TO PAY FOR A REPLACEMENT BIN?
In 2013-14, the Council spent £63,000 on replacing lost, damaged and stolen bins with a spend of £80,000 estimated for 2014-15. With the current financial pressures in mind, we are no longer in a position to fund the replacement of lost, damaged or stolen bins. Charging for bins is common across local authorities. They'll be £25 per replacement, which covers the cost of purchase and delivery.

QUESTION 9: WHEN WILL THE CHANGES COME INTO FORCE?
The switchover begins this week and the wheeled bin exchange will carry on over the summer. You should by now have received a leaflet with all the details you need.

QUESTION 10: WON'T THESE CHANGES JUST INCREASE THE RISK OF FLY-TIPPING?
Other Local Authorities that have implemented similar changes have not seen marked increases in fly tipping, however, where it does occur we have a dedicated team of Waste Officers who are trained to search waste for evidence and take any necessary enforcement action (either issue Fixed Penalties or prepare a prosecution). We ask residents to remain vigilant and report any fly tipping via Connect to Cardiff.

QUESTION 11: DO WE KNOW IF THESE MEASURES HAVE BEEN SUCCESSFUL AT OTHER LOCAL AUTHORITIES?
The City and County of Swansea Council introduced a three bag per fortnight limit for general waste last April and as a result the recycling level in the city has increased by five per cent, is one Welsh example.

QUESTION 12: HOW CAN I GET HELP?
By now, you should have received information through the post letting you know about how the changes impact on you and how you can recycle more. You can find out lots of information by visiting www.cardiff.gov.uk/recyclemore or phoning C2C on 2087 2087. There are support services such as the hygiene service; recycling advice; bulky waste collections; assisted lifts and what you can take to your local Household Wastes Recycling Centre.

You can also use our helpful postcode checker at www.cardiff.gov.uk/recyclemore to find out about the changes to collections in your area.

M4 Corridor around Newport

Llywodraeth Cymru
Welsh Government

www.cymru.gov.uk

We are holding a series of public information exhibitions to update you on our proposals for the M4 Corridor around Newport. The exhibitions will be interactive and open to all, including children.

What is this about?

Unreliable journey times and traffic congestion, particularly during rush hour, are common occurrences on the M4 around Newport. This is due to the lack of capacity and alternative routes, especially during incidents and accidents.

The project is considered to be the sustainable, long term solution to the problems, which would also best meet our social, environmental and economic objectives. It forms an essential part of our vision for an efficient integrated transport system in South Wales.

How you can help?

Please come along to an exhibition and find out more about our proposals for a new section of motorway to the south of Newport, which would reduce traffic and address the transport problems on the existing M4 around Newport.

We would like your views on the proposed new M4 junctions at Docks Way and Glan Llyn, our proposals for the existing M4 (including reopening M4 Junction 25 at Caerleon) and our proposals to maintain access both during construction and afterwards.

What happens next?

Your feedback will help us shape the design, local access and associated land requirements.

In Spring 2016 the Welsh Government intend to publish the draft Statutory Orders and an Environmental Statement.

It is anticipated a Public Local Inquiry would be held later in 2016, when individuals and organisations would be able to present their views on the proposals to an independent Inspector. Dependent on the outcome, construction could commence in 2018.

Young tech wizards scoop app design win

SCHOOLCHILDREN in Cardiff got to grips with the latest in app design as part of a citywide competition organised by Digital Cardiff.

Winners of a recent Design an App Competition from Oakfield and Allensbank Primary Schools took part in a Hack Day coming together with computer programmers, designers and app developers to work on software ideas at the Digital Cardiff suite in County Hall.

The children were winners of the competition that was launched in September by Digital Cardiff, as part of the Super Connected Cities programme. In 2012, the City of Cardiff Council was successful in bidding for funding from the Department of Culture, Media and Sport to deliver a world class broadband and wireless infrastructure for Cardiff.

Pupils from Oakfield Primary and Allensbank Primary had the chance to work with local app designers, TradeBox Media, learning more about building apps and collectively developing an idea for a Cardiff Bug Hunt app which would allow visitors to parks in Cardiff to research and find out more about the mini beasts they come across there.

• City Council Leader, Phil Bale presents Oakfield Primary's Layth Yacob with his certificate

• The Allensbank Primary winners

City of Cardiff Council Leader, Phil Bale, said: "Digital Cardiff's Design an App school competition has been a great success and the calibre of entries was very impressive. Tradebox Media were overwhelmed by the children's ideas at the Hack Day and the idea for a Cardiff Bug Hunt app is both fun and educational at the same time.

"Cardiff is now one of the most digitally-connected cities in the UK and it's great to see children and young people taking an interest and developing new skills in this field."

Entries from Allensbank pupils Milly Wikeley, Charlotte White, Johnny Carpenter and the school's nursery class were successful in the competition as well as Oakfield Primary pupil Layth Yacob's idea.

The winners have been awarded a £1,000 prize for their school while £5,000 has been allocated for the development of the winning app, thanks to communications provider, BT which sponsored the competition.

The Design an App Competition was part of the wider Super Connected Cardiff programme which has delivered free Wi-Fi in 150 public buildings across the city, free street Wi-Fi with 4G developments, free Wi-Fi on all Cardiff buses, a Connection Voucher Scheme enabling organisations to apply for up to £3,000 to install broadband into their premises and a new Internet Exchange (IX) for the city.

New Cabinet Member pledges to continue school improvement

A ward member for Cathays, Councillor Merry previously held a position as Deputy Cabinet Member, responsible for Young People and Learning. She has also served on the Governing Bodies of three Cardiff schools and has been a Chair of Governors.

The Cabinet change comes after Councillor Julia Magill's decision to step down in May due to serious and long-term ill health.

Leader of the City Council, Phil Bale said: "I am pleased that Councillor Merry has joined the Cabinet as the new Cabinet Member for Education. I would also like to thank Councillor Magill for her hard work over the past three years."

Commenting on her appointment as Cabinet Member for Education, Councillor Merry said: "I am looking forward to continuing Councillor Magill's excellent work to drive up education standards in Cardiff.

"Our priorities include delivering further improvements in GCSE and A-level results, investing in new schools through our £168m 21st Century Schools programme and ensuring that all our children have access to a first class education.

"In our schools, levels of attainment and attendance are improving, but the job is not finished yet and I am working with the Director of Education to build on the achievements seen over the past three years."

New Howardian Primary School to be established from this September

HOWARDIAN Primary School in Penylan will be established from September following completion of a statutory consultation period.

The school, which will serve Cyncoed, Penylan and parts of Plasnweydd, will initially use parts of the existing Howardian Community Centre to provide a nursery and two reception classes.

Councillor Sarah Merry, Cabinet Member for Education, said: "I welcome the establishment of the new primary school. Reception classes in the four existing English-medium primary schools in the area are fully subscribed. Creating a new school allows us to meet the projected rising demand for primary places and maintain education standards.

"The all new Howardian Primary School is planned to fully open in September 2017, which means that we can make sure the children are taught in a high quality environment that will support the delivery of a broad and balanced curriculum."

Roath Park Primary School Headteacher, Mr Colin Skinner has been named as Interim Headteacher of Howardian Primary School until the new school is built and ready to open in 2017.

Mr Skinner said: "I am very much looking forward to taking up the role of Interim Headteacher alongside that of Headteacher for Roath Park primary.

"At Roath Park primary we have always believed that we are a community school and by working closely together we can help to get Howardian Primary School off to a flying start. Howardian and Roath Park primaries will be closely linked during the interim period, bringing benefits for both schools as well as the communities they serve."

All the fun of the seaside at Cardiff Bay this summer

IF you do like to be beside the seaside, there's no better place to be than in Cardiff Bay this summer.

With the school holidays now in full swing, it's time to dig out the bathers, flip flops and bucket and spade to head to the Cardiff Bay Beach.

The newly sponsored Vueling Cardiff Bay Beach is part of the fantastic Cardiff Festival programme, providing fun, family entertainment and events across the city throughout the summer months.

Roald Dahl Plass will once again be transformed into an urban beach with even more seaside attractions to entertain families including shallow water play area, live music and new exciting seaside rides.

There's plenty of fun in store with giveaways and competitions throughout the summer. Open from 10am every day until September 5, entry to the popular attraction is free, with additional charges for facilities on site.

The P1 Welsh Grand Prix of the Sea returns to the bay for a second year on August 30 - 31 for the Cardiff Harbour Festival. Boasting race boats that have been designed by the best race engineers in the industry and using the bay as a race course, the water turns the course into an unpredictable contest that's exhilarating for racers and spectators alike.

Back on land, a cornucopia of comedic characters bring maritime mayhem to the bay, with tonnes of nautical-themed street entertainers and a continental market.

Water lovers can whet their appetites at Paddle Fest at Cardiff International White Water on September 5 giving people the chance to try out a range of water-sports, including canoeing, kayaking and stand-up paddle boarding.

Entry is free with special taster sessions running throughout the day and live music on the bandstand.

Cabinet Member for Community Development, Co-operatives and Social Enterprise, Councillor Peter Bradbury, said: "Summer in the Bay is action packed once again this year and it's great to see the Cardiff Bay beach back again. It's a brilliant day out for all ages.

"The Harbour Festival is a really popular fixture in our summer events calendar. Thousands flock to the bay to enjoy the August bank holiday and I'm sure with the added attraction of the fast and furious P1 Welsh Grand Prix of the Sea, this year's event will be no different."

Away from the bay, there's plenty in store in the city centre over the summer including the Grand Medieval Mêlée at Cardiff Castle on August 15-16. This magnificent medieval tournament takes centre stage with the bravest knights in the land, armed and dangerous and ready to do battle until there's just one man standing.

There's also much, much more going on as part of this year's Cardiff Festival. Visit www.cardiff-events.com for further information.
